Risk Management

Our job is to make your job easier

Our online risk management program is a robust program that you will have instant access to – from online training to technical guides. These systems are designed to help you deliver a cost efficient, customized risk management program.

- Online Training: Access 30 core courses and hundreds of electives; track employee progress and completion online with multiple report views; easy-to-use and can be accessed anywhere.
- Online Documents: Risk management resources, including sample forms, are available for your use. Sample forms can be customized to your entity's needs with review by your legal counsel.
- Regional Training Seminars: OneBeacon Government Risks conducts in-person training seminars throughout the year on topics such as Law Enforcement Liability, Employment Practices Liability and essential components of a comprehensive risk management program.

Our risk management programs align and support the IRWA's annual convention, online and hands on training sessions. By working together, we can help your employees and community be as safe as possible.

Working with our team means instant access to our breadth of industry expertise and understanding of the nuances of governmental claims, both State and Federal, including:

- Tort caps
- Immunities
- Special defenses
- Civil rights statutes; including 42 USC 1983

Illinois Rural Water Association

“Our goal is to provide a comprehensive and competitive insurance program that is different from what is currently being provided to Illinois water and sewer districts, and municipalities. We will accomplish this through the program we have established with Assurance by recognizing our members for their unique exposures and exceptional loss experience.” - Frank Dunmire, Executive Director, IRWA

About Assurance

Assurance is an independently owned insurance agency founded in 1961. They are a top 50 U.S. broker by Business Insurance with over $50M in annual revenue. For many years, they have focused their efforts in serving the property and casualty needs of public entity clients. Assurance has built a reputation on earning their client’s trust and confidence through excellence in every interaction. Clients view them as more than just their insurance broker or agent. They are looked to as a trusted advisor in terms of risk, and every action they take on behalf of their clients is done with the level of care one expects from a professional partner. Their “Inspiring trust and confidence” ideology is deeply rooted in their employees by their mission, culture, and processes.

In 2012, through their partnership with Linden Group Health Services, they were exclusively endorsed by the IRWA to be the broker and manager of their insurance program for all members throughout Illinois.
